

NOW READ THIS!

Specialist motorsport agency McKlein has re-released its epic Porsche 917 – The Heroes, the Victories, the Myth book. Updated, and with an additional 24 pages, the book covers the complete story of the 917 including the breathtaking development and fascinating technology that went into creating one of the most famous sports racing cars of our time.

Packed full of amazing archive images, some of which have never been published, and interviews with the engineers, drivers, technicians, team managers and mechanics who developed, built and raced this amazing Porsche this is 264 page book is a must have addition to anyone's library.

Porsche 917 – The Heroes, The Victories, The Myth is available from www.racingwebshop.com and is priced at £49.

The chaps over at McKlein haven't just been concentrating on their 917s, because also new for 2009 is the latest version of Walter Röhl's Diary, first published in 2002, and reprinted here with new material, and a new name: Rückspiegel, or rear view mirror, in time for the legend's 60th birthday.

There is a new chapter covering Walter's role as an ambassador, consultant and test driver for Porsche, and yet more previously unpublished images and anecdotes from one of the greatest drivers of all time.

Rückspiegel is available from www.racingwebshop.com and is priced at Euro 49.00.

MOTOR SPORT ART

Disappointed with the free calendar you received for Christmas? Tough, you should have bought a proper one yourself, such as McKlein's Motorsport Classic 2009.

Designed with evocative black and white images from the 1950s, '60s and '70s, each month provides you with two images from an era when safety and run-off areas made way for adventure, excitement and some of the most awe inspiring motorsport events to take place.

From rallying, sports car racing and Formula 1 the McKlein archive has it covered and at just £29.99 it's a comparative bargain compared to the free Waste Management calendar you're recycling company sent you!

VBOX ON THE BIG SCREEN

Racelogic, manufacturers of state of the art Vbox timing gear, has introduced a video Vbox that integrates GPS data with high quality video and graphics in one compact unit.

The unit, which doesn't come with any cameras, provides all the regular Vbox data recordings including speed, acceleration, position and G-Force, but also includes an optional CAN interface that enables you to retrieve information such as throttle angle and steering angle as well as brake pedal pressure. The graphics are delivered via a graphics processor, which produces the editable 24-bit colour graphics. All the data is stored on a SD card or USB memory stick.

Prices start from £1395 + VAT depending on your desired package. More details can be found by logging on to www.videovbox.co.uk or by calling 01280 823803.
